

The image displays two vertical diagrams, each representing a distribution of 100 points along a vertical axis. The axes are marked with horizontal lines at the top and bottom, and a central vertical line. The left diagram shows a uniform distribution of points, while the right diagram shows a non-uniform distribution with a higher density of points in the middle.

Complex

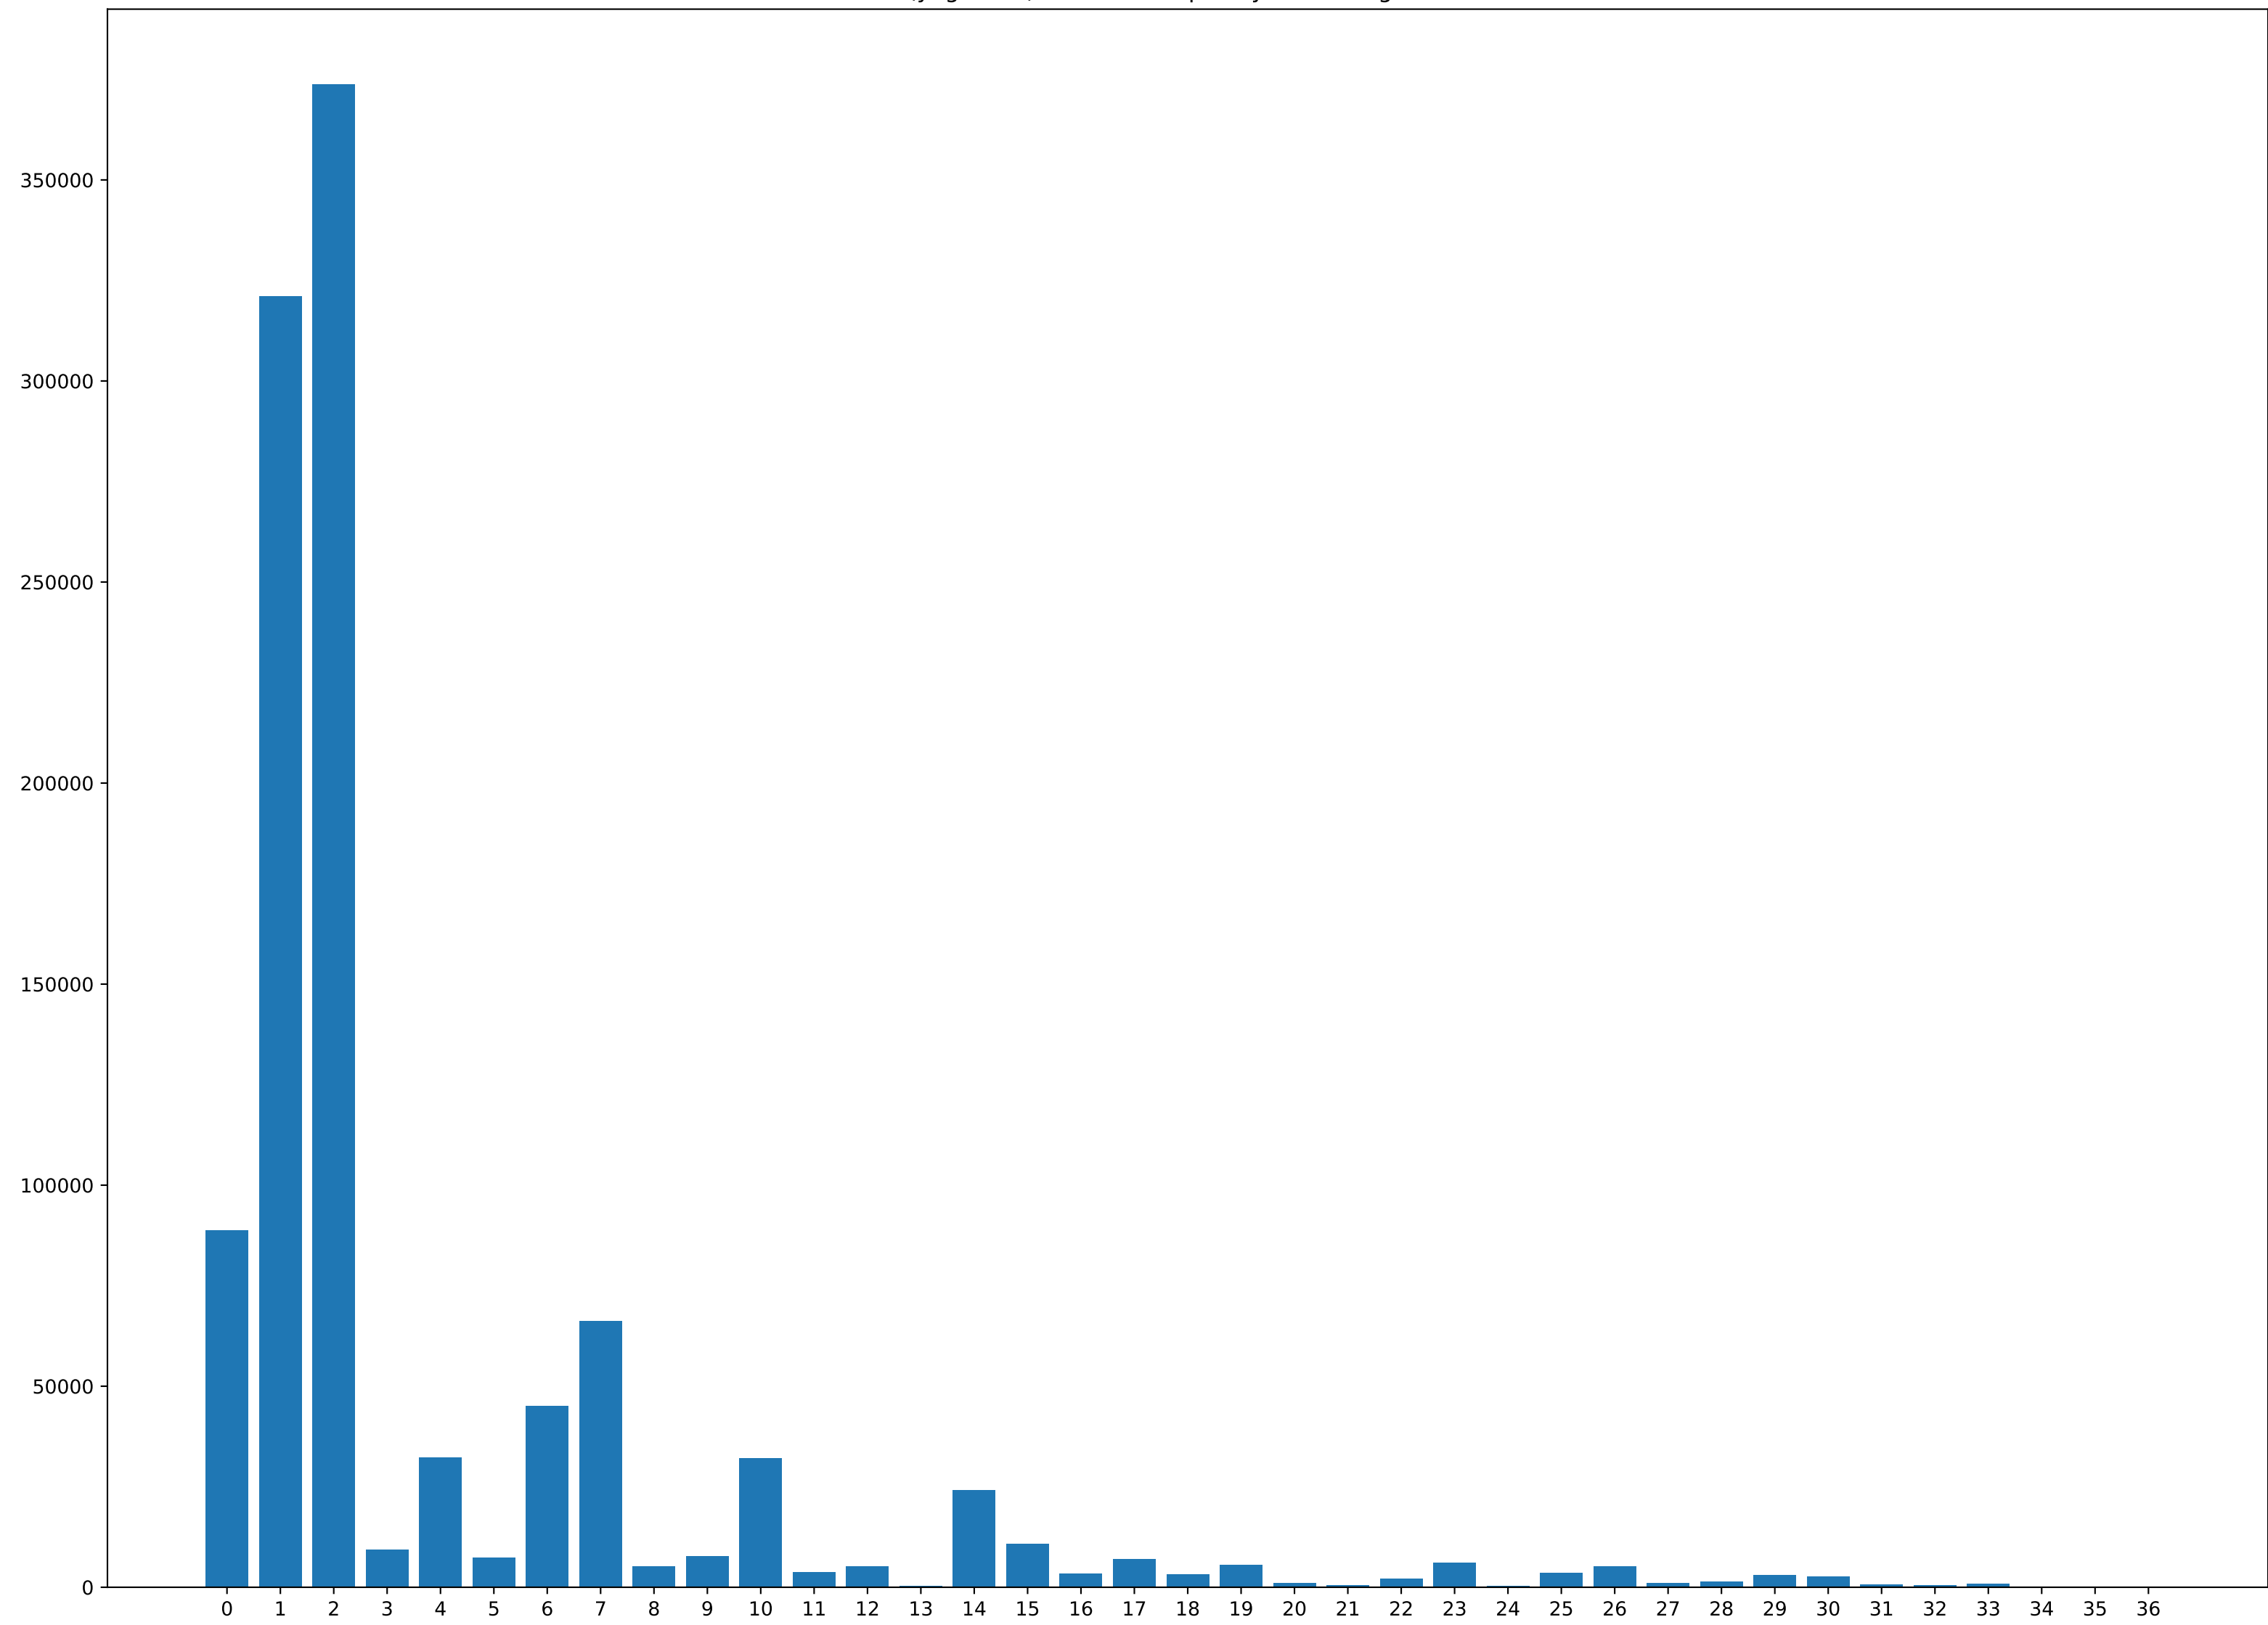

(yago3-10) Comparison of Rankings per Model and Prediction Direction

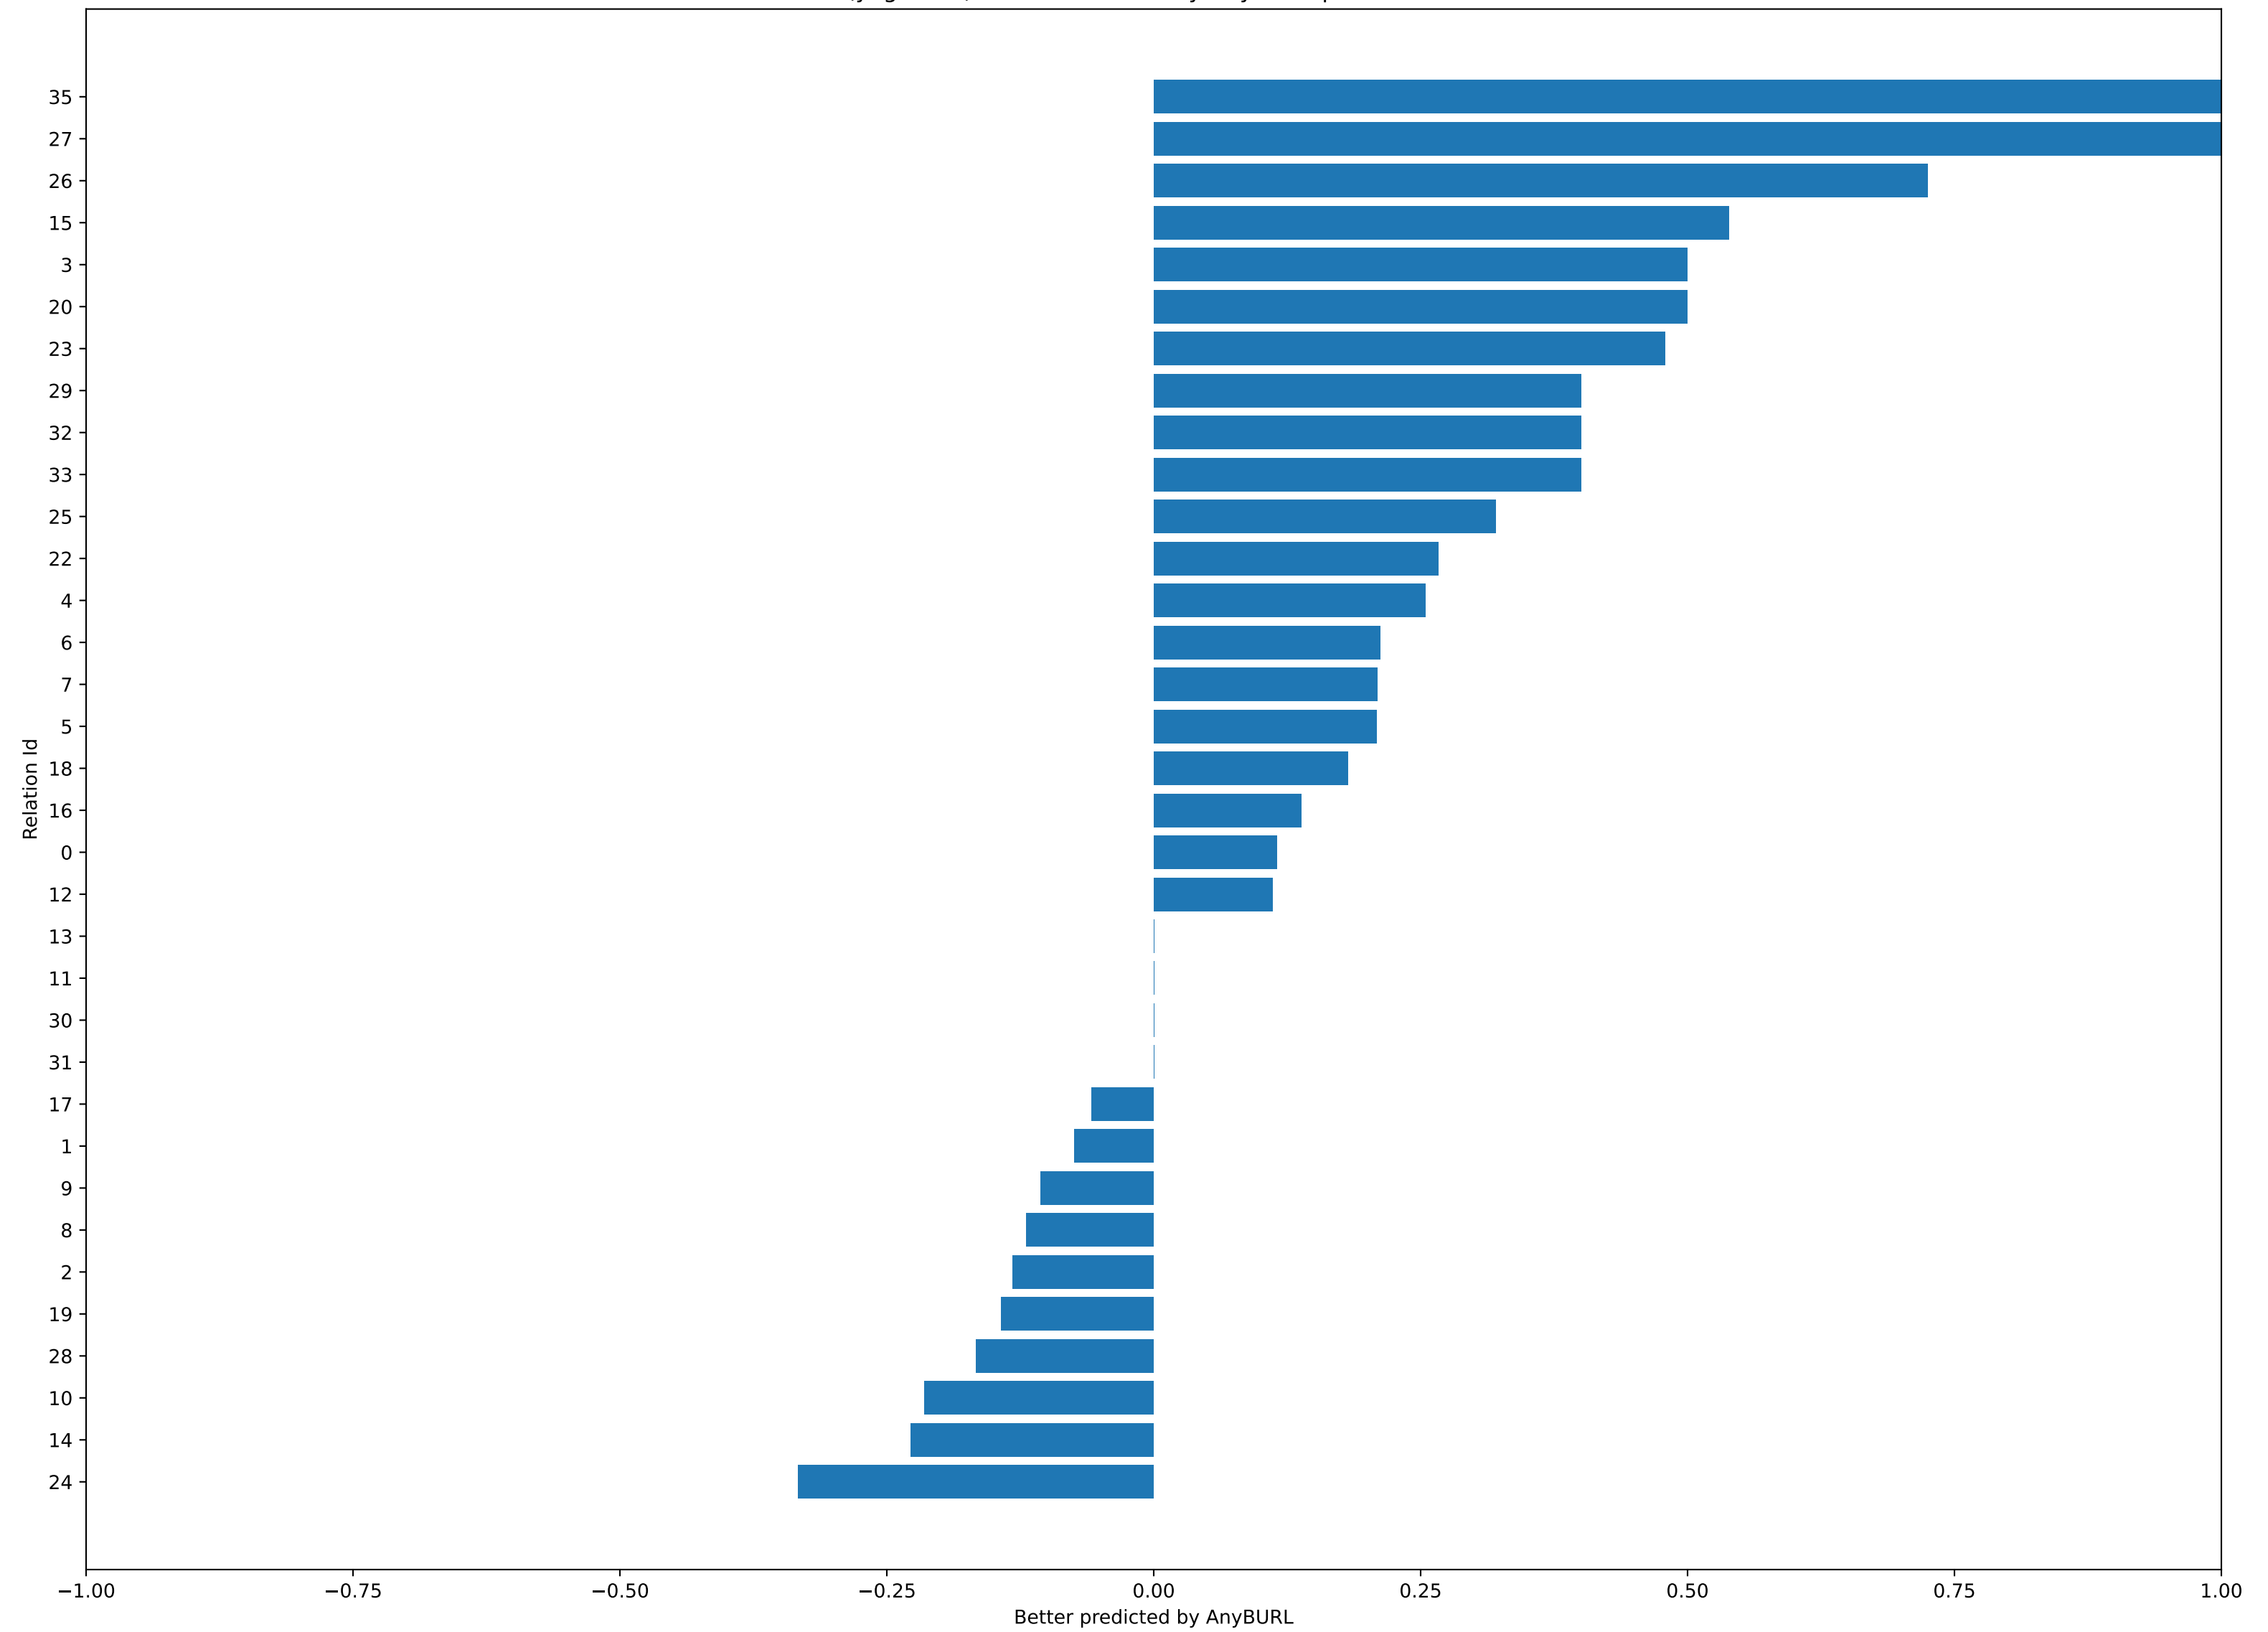

(yago3-10) Comparison of Rankings for different Thresholds

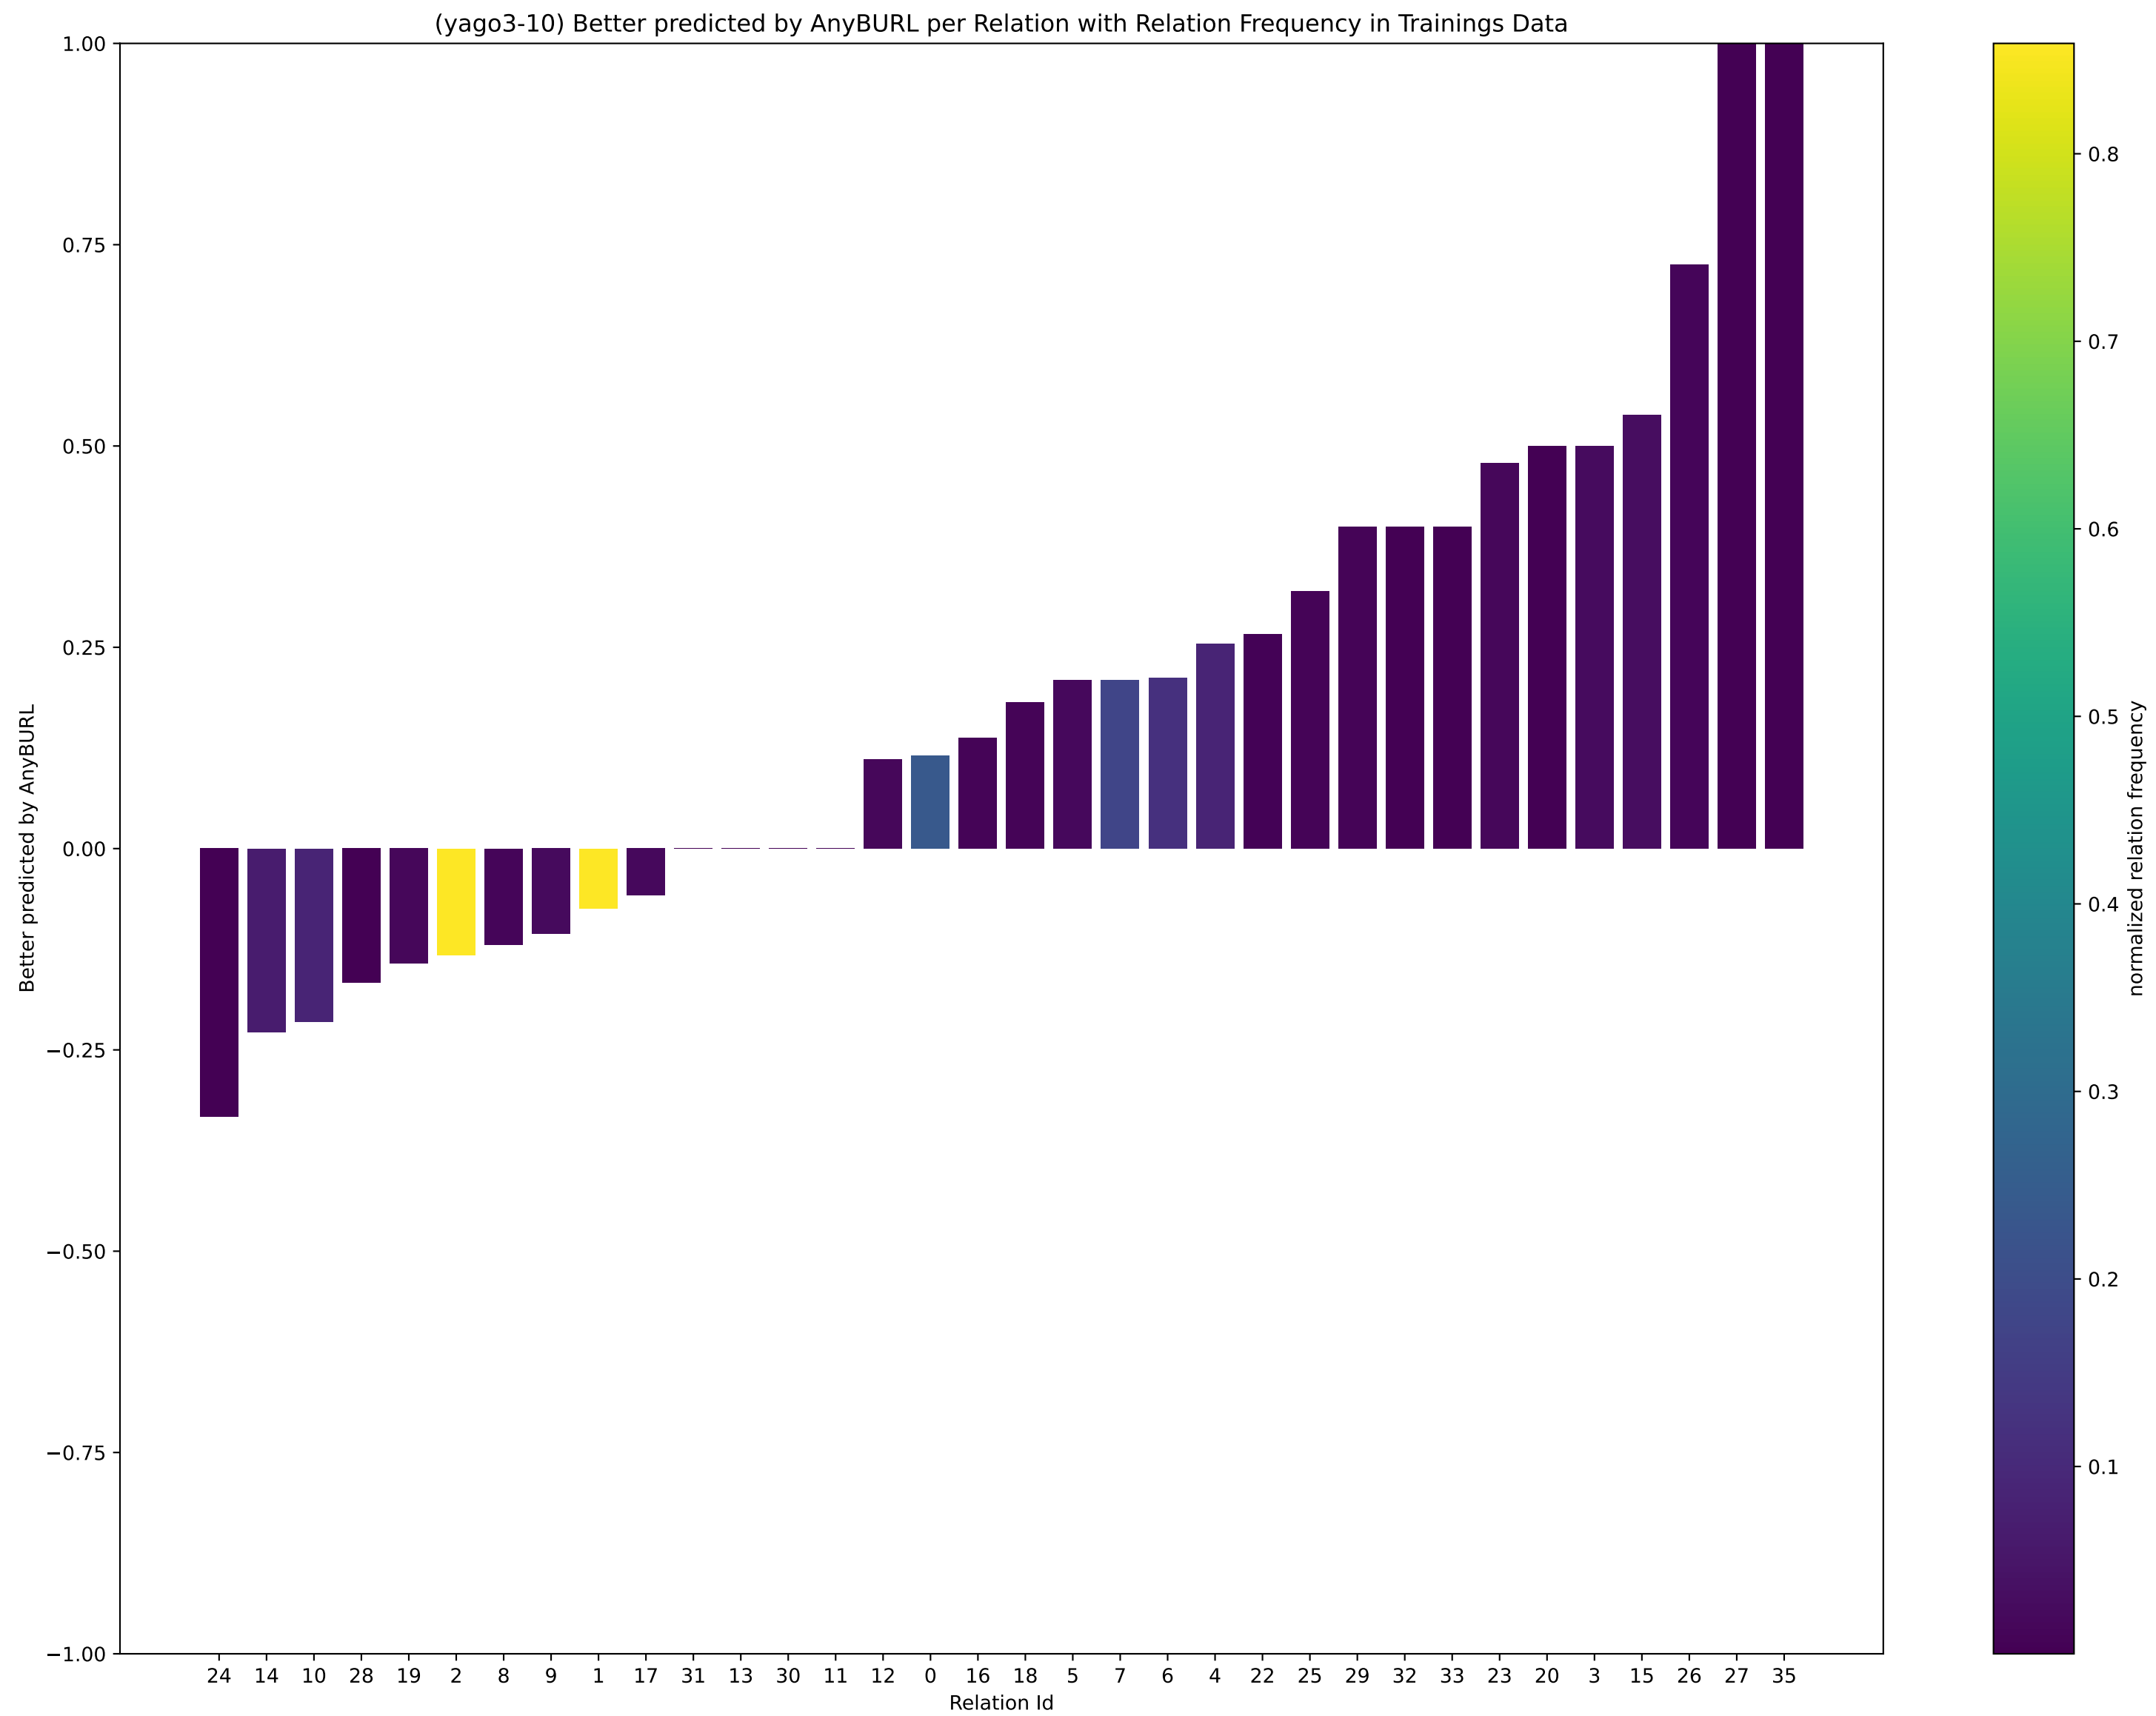

(yago3-10) Relation Frequency in Trainings Data

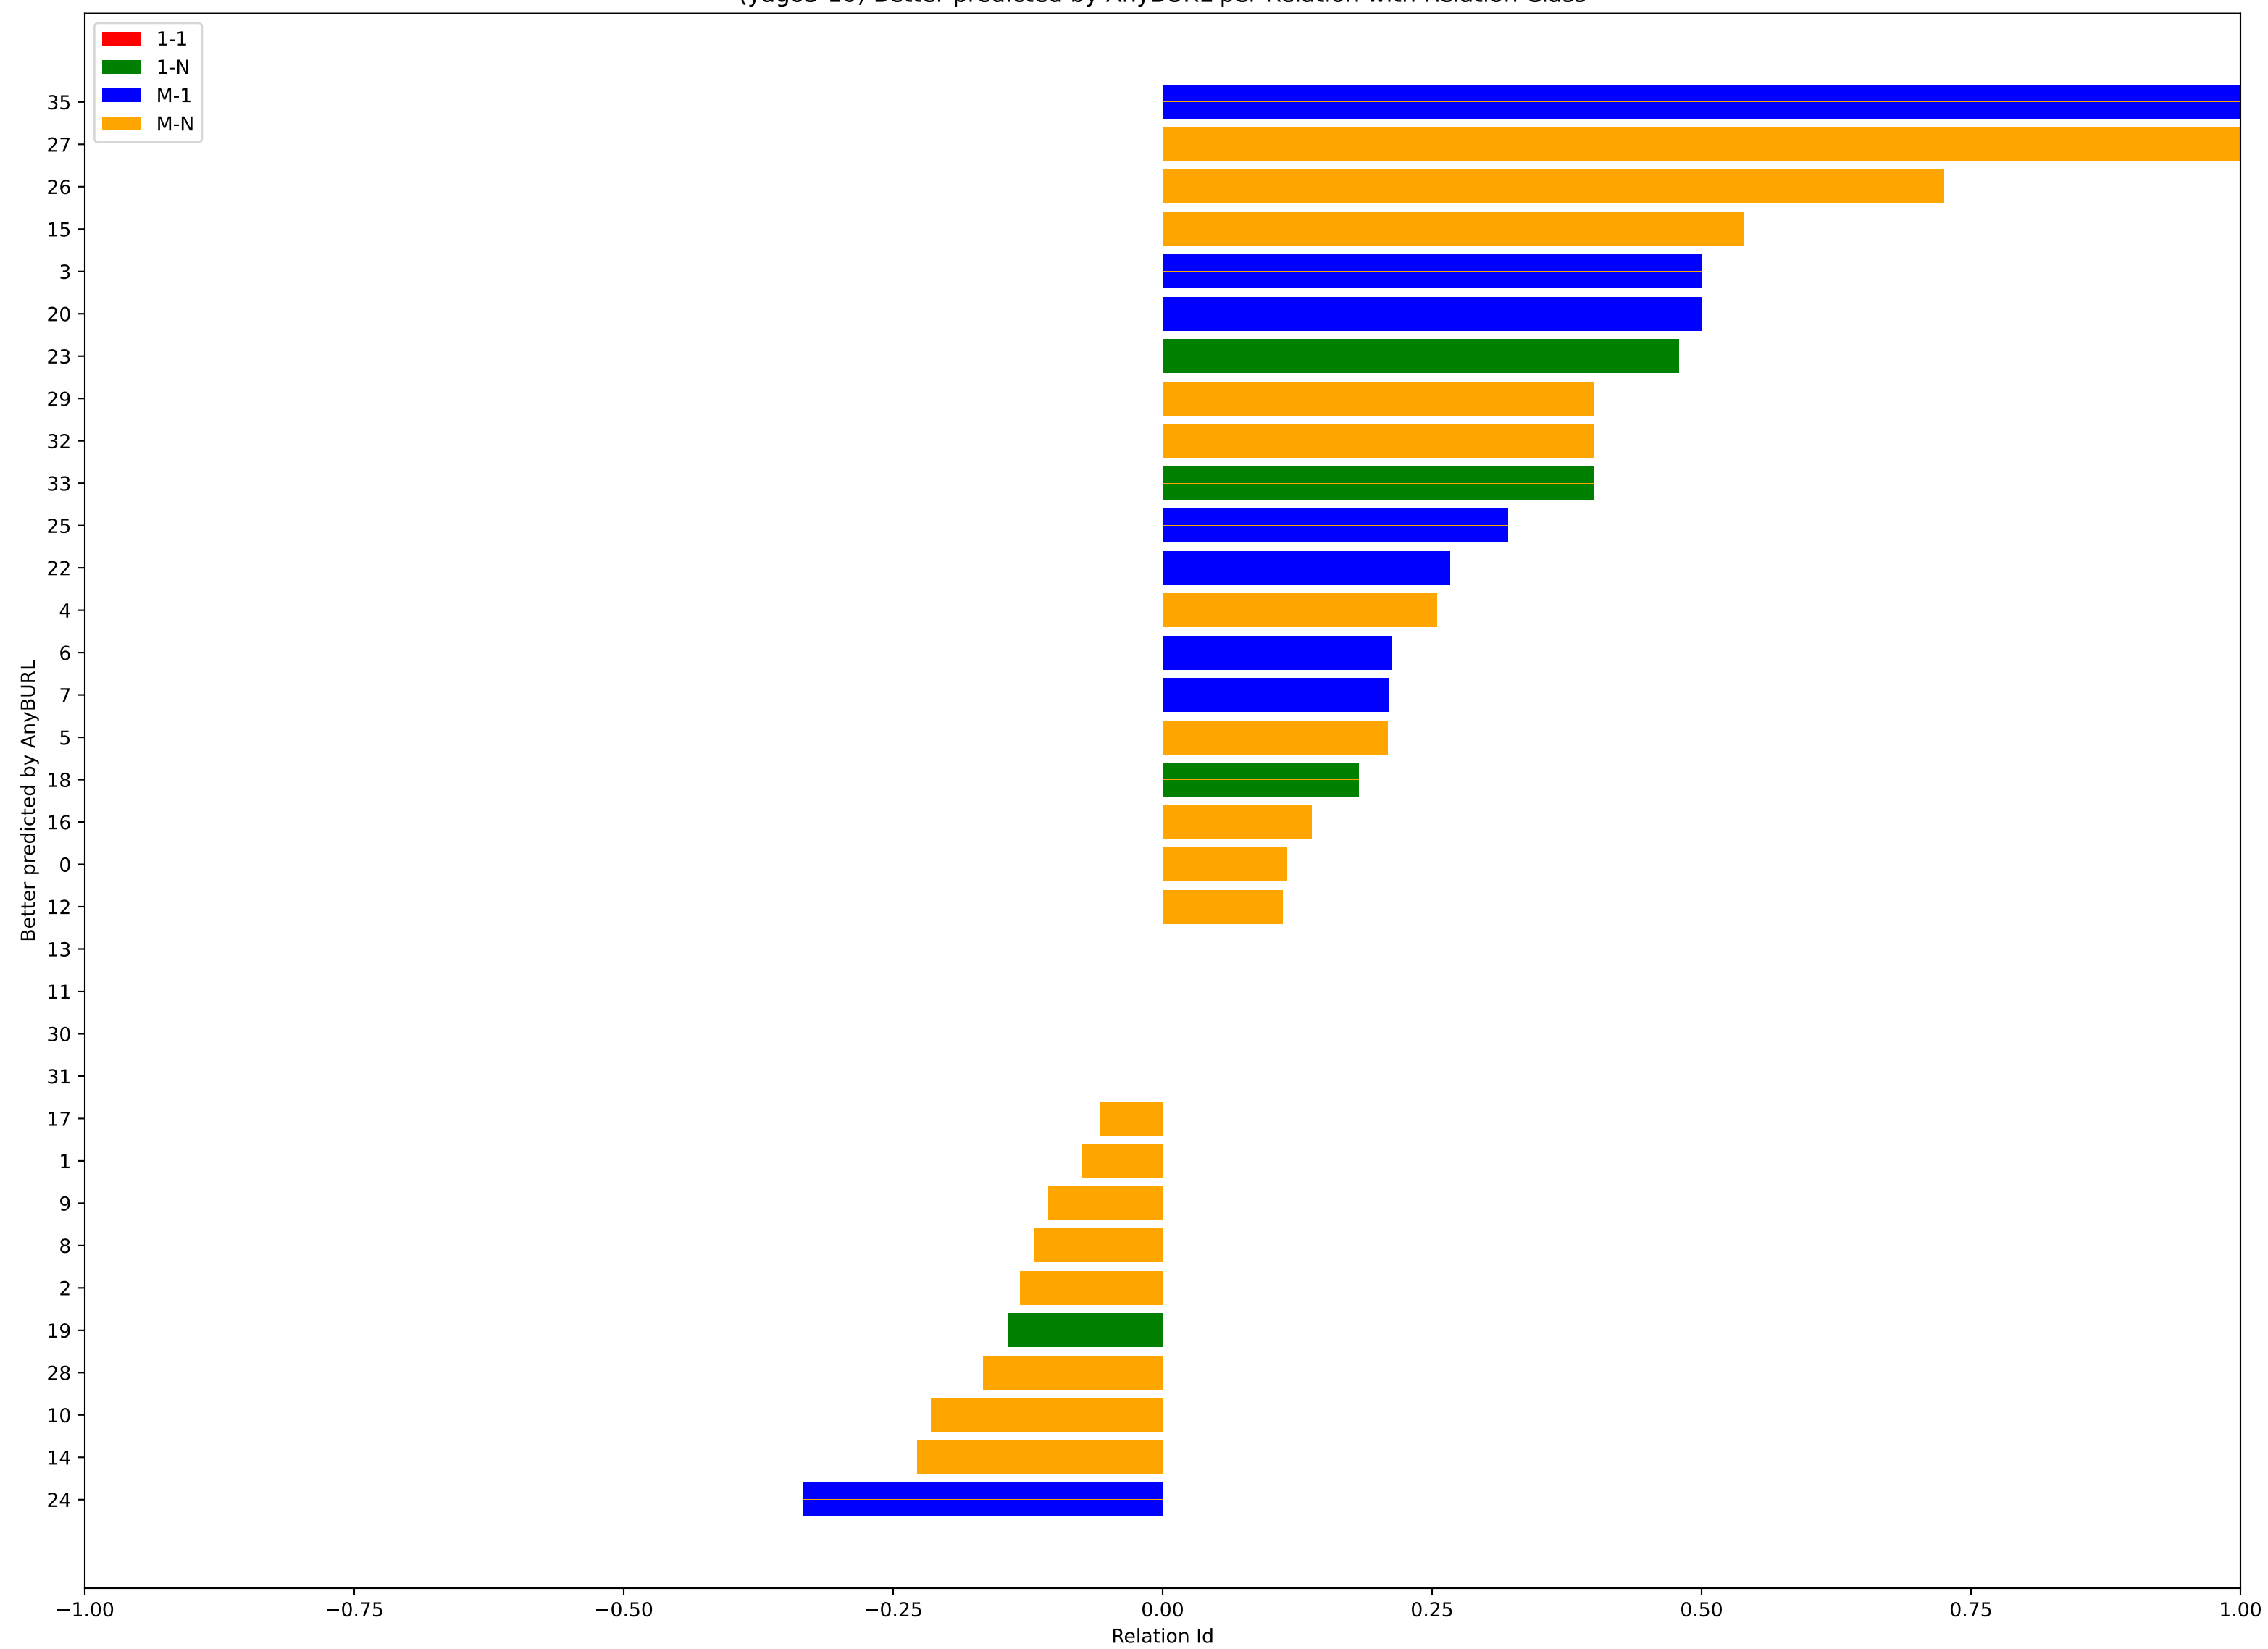

(yago3-10) Better Predicted by AnyBURL per Relation

(yago3-10) Better predicted by AnyBURL per Relation with Relation Class

(yago3-10) Better predicted per Relation Class

BURL	Com
3
62
343
913	